Addendum to the Class E-Notes

Mike Campbell reported “that he and younger daughter, Brienne, graduated from our CNA program on 13 May and then rushed to the championship match in the Colorado state tennis tournament, where my granddaughter, Erin Sanders, a freshman from Ponderosa High School, lost in the Division 5-A, number one singles. It was quite an accomplishment for a freshman, and she played with great poise and composure. Happily, she is as good a student as she is a tennis player. My son, Scott, is a marketing manager with ESPN in New York and draws many assignments that sound like fun to me. My favorite trips with Scott have been to Ann Arbor in ‘03 for the Michigan-Ohio State game and in ‘02 for the overtime game against Penn State, which we enjoyed from the sidelines. I retired from Deloitte & Touche five years ago and have occupied myself with travel, golf, fishing and a couple of consulting projects, most notably helping WorldCom correct its financial statements. I expect to be appointed as a director of a smaller public company in the next couple of weeks. My wife, TK, and I have homes in Castle Rock, CO and Kingwood, TX, but plan to sell the one in CO, since she has decided to pursue a masters degree in occupational therapy in Houston. She also has an MBA, but has always been medically inclined. As you might imagine, all of this excitement makes it difficult for me to stay focused on my retirement.”
